

ZOHAB ZEE KHAN

Spoken Word Poet

"He was fantastic - really strong messages and a good performance. He engaged our students, particularly the boys, in poetry" – Darryl Meredith, West Wyalong High School

"I strongly recommend he visit your students to share his uplifting and positive art as well as gracious, generous personality. He is a total gem, and of particular inspiration to young listeners who may view poetry in a jaded way" – Janet Haigh, Saint Maur International School

"Zohab was FANTASTIC...the students were enthralled by his performance" – Roz Chamberlain, Newcastle Grammar School

"He embodied multiculturalism and used its value as a theme" – Douglas Glenn, Suzhou Singapore International School

Performance: Spoken Word Poetry

The talented Zohab Khan's repertoire of spoken word poetry enthral and entertains in this open and honest performance. A compelling raconteur, proficient didgeridoo player, harmonica beat-boxer and percussionist, his award-winning poetry is presented surrounded by music and rhythm. Zohab offers a unique program combining rap, slam poetry and freestyle improvisation with audience participation. With the incorporation of self-development techniques aka brain hacking, spoken-word poetry becomes not just a platform for self-expression but also one to inspire change. As a 4th generation Australian of Pakistani heritage who grew up in rural NSW, Zohab channels his distinct life experiences into stories with the intent to educate. Zohab confronts a range of social justice issues from racism to gender inequality and socio-economic disparity. Zohab's high energy and powerful words have left countless inspired.
